from trypanosomiasis, the disease generally known as sleeping sickness. It may be pointed out here that in a large percentage of cases in the Congo actual sleep is apparently not a marked feature in the progress of the disease. The work undertaken by the expedition has grown to very large dimensions, especially taking into consideration the expensive research being carried on in Liverpool in connection with the operations in the Congo. The work in the laboratories of the school in Liverpool consists of bacteriological and other investigations, which, owing to the lack of necessary apparatus, can not be adequately carried on in the Congo itself. The expenditure accordingly has already reached a very large sum, and the thanks of the scientific world are due to the King of the Belgians, Sir Alfred Jones, and other supporters of the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine, whose generosity has up to the present made investigations on so large a scale possible.
